A PROCLAMATION
COMPOST AWARENESS WEEK

WHEREAS: Organic materials suitable for composting represent up to 65% of materials landfilled each year while composting remains a viable and effective form of waste reduction, reuse and recycling; and

WHEREAS: Home composting and mulching is a way households can reduce the volume of waste generated at home, take individual responsibility for keeping waste costs down, and decrease reliance on tax-supported programs; and

WHEREAS: Centralized composting programs, both public and private, would benefit from increased awareness of the benefits of adding organic materials to the soil, thereby increasing demand for compost and mulch products; and

WHEREAS: Returning organic resources to the soil is a method of decreasing the dependence on non-renewable resources, conserving water, improving air quality, reducing stream pollution and providing a more aesthetically pleasing and sustainable environment; and

WHEREAS: Compost and compost amended soils provide many important stormwater management functions and functional landscapes that store, evaporate, filter and slow the velocity of stormwater runoff, reducing peak flows and volume aiding in erosion prevention and pollution control; and

WHEREAS: Community sustainability is enhanced by promoting the use of renewable resources in landscaping, horticulture and agriculture as well as public works and projects; now

THEREFORE: I, SONNY PERDUE, Governor of the State of Georgia, do hereby proclaim May 6-12, 2007, as COMPOST AWARENESS WEEK in Georgia.

In witness thereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Seal of the Executive Department to be affixed this 25th day of April in the year of our Lord two thousand seven.
